HE IS NOW EXCLUDED FROM SOCIAL CIRCLES

GEORGE KAPULE WANTS BIG DAMAGES FROM THE ADVERTISER.

Claims to Have Walked in the Straight and Narrow Path Previous to the Publication—Objects to Being Classified as a Highwayman.

George B. Kapule thinks that because the Advertiser has seen fit to publish to its "large circulation" a statement that he, Kapule, did the road agent act he is damaged to the amount of $5,000. Kapule says, the said publication has caused him to be excluded from society.

Kapule was the man whom the Advertiser classified as a highwayman and charged with the robbery of Hackdriver Joe Rose, in its issue of November 26. He is a native and says that he is and was during all the times up to the publication of the alleged defamatory article a true, honest and law-abiding citizen, and so conducted himself. The writing he says is scandalous and false, injuring his name, fame, credit and reputation. He has never been guilty of highway robbery, nor even suspected of it, he says, and by the alleged false article he is bereft of the deservedly good opinion of all of his neighbors and other persons to whom he is known.

He says the defendant well knowing the premises, but contriving and maliciously intending to produce, degrade and injure the plaintiff, bring him into disgrace, abhorrence, odium, hatred, contempt and ridicule, and cause him to be excluded from society, and to destroy his happiness and peace of mind, caused the robbery story to be published.

The headlines and article of the Advertiser are given in the complaint in full. The incident is introduced to the public something like this: "Struck down and robbed—Hackman Rose, Victim of His Fare—Bill Kapule is Accused. Desperate Deed of Natives at the Dead of Night near Waikeke Road."

Then comes a tirade against highwaymen in general—Kapule does not object so very much to that, but he hates to be classed as one of them. In the long story of the Rose incident Kapule complains that whenever the name of the highwayman is not mentioned it refers to him though his name is used rather economically.

Offered to Spooner.

Washington, Dec. 5. — President McKinley has offered the portfolio of attorney general to Senator Spooner of Wisconsin. Mr. Spooner has the offer under consideration, but may decline on account of the ill-health of his wife.

Senator John C. Spooner is one of the leading statesmen of the Wolverine State. He is a veteran of the civil war and has served in the United States senate at intervals since 1885.

Pneumonia Prevented.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., general agents for Territory of Hawaii.
